Blood Humors

It is important that you should now rid your blood of those impure, poisonous, effete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter. The secret of the unequalled and really wonderful success of as a remedy for Blood Humors is the fact that it combines, not simply sarsaparilla, but the utmost remedial values of more than twenty ingredients—Roots, Barks and Herbs,—known to have extraordinary efficacy in purifying the blood and building up the whole system. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today, in liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs.

Employ thy time well if thou meanest to gain leisure.—Poor Richard's Almanac.

The Navy Department having been accused of extravagance for using the battleship Texas as a target, Secretary Meyer arises to reply that the ship was nothing better than a "death trap," if used in actual battle. The vessel, he said, was obsolete in design and the experiments in his opinion, were of far greater value to the navy than could have been in any other way.

On the 28th of the month occurs a magnificent total eclipse of the sun, but its path lies wholly in the Pacific ocean, the belt of totality extending from southeastern Australia to Central America. The only points of land where observations can be made are in the Samoan and Friendly Islands, where totality will last nearly five minutes. Partial eclipse will be noted in the southern and western parts of the United States in the afternoon, but New England lies wholly outside of the eclipse area.

Sweeping resolutions in favor of the retention of the Maine prohibitory law were passed and the campaign against the repeal of that law was begun by the executive committee of the State Grange at a meeting held at Hotel Atwood, Lewiston, Friday afternoon. It was voted to hold a series of field meetings in the different counties the same as last year, arrangements for the same to be made by State Master Stetson. No action was taken where the next State Grange meeting will be held, and there probably will not be until the July meeting of the committee.

Last Sunday was the coldest April 24 on record, according to the Portland Weather Bureau. The maximum for that date was 29 and the minimum was 17, and the mean, therefore, was 23. This mean as compared with the mean on the second day of previous Aprils was the coldest in the history of the local Weather Bureau. The normal mean for the second day of April is 38, and this leaves just 15 degrees behind the normal. At this rate April would be a particularly cold month. The minimum of 17 was also the coldest temperature ever recorded on the second day of April although it was not the coldest for the month as in 1874 on the first the thermometer dropped to 12 above and that has not been touched since. Monday morning the temperature went down to 16 above, and that is the coldest for this day of the month. The highest ever recorded in April was 81 on the 25th in 1898, but unless the weather moderates rapidly there is small chance of even coming in the vicinity of that figure this month.

THE BIBLE IN MAINE

What Was Done In 1910 In Circulating the Greatest of Books.

Rev. Frank L. Wilkins, D. D., of Portland, has prepared the annual report which has just been submitted to the Bible Society of Maine, as follows:

The Trustees of this society here-with submit to you an account of their stewardship in your behalf for the year ending March 1, 1911. In this tercentenary year of King James' version, when our English speaking world is being impressed by the voice of history with the place and power of the Bible in our civilization, we gratefully acknowledge the record of the past one hundred years of the Bible Society of Maine. We are glad to report that the 101st year is a worthy beginning of service for the new century.

This board has held its usual meetings during the year and has sought to administer the resources of the Society in its best wisdom for the furtherance of the Master's Kingdom in this Commonwealth. Our superintendent, Edmund T. Garland, has given a wide and careful supervision to the administrative details of the Society and has shown fresh proofs of his devotion to its work. His reports to us from time to time have given as usual such intelligent and comprehensive statements as to conditions and needs, that the meetings of the board have easily reached to the merits of vital matters. It has been another year of great unity and satisfaction in our common work.

The field presented by this State is geographically great and socially presents peculiar problems. The aim of the Society is to accomplish a canvass of the religious conditions in the entire field at least once in seven years. During the past year we have covered the greatest area ever canvassed by the Society in one year, viz., 141 cities, towns and plantations. Twenty-nine thousand, two-hundred and fifty-six families were visited by our missionaries.

During this canvass, the need for the work of the Bible Society was made freshly evident. Our missionaries found for example, such conditions as these: 526 families entirely destitute of the Scriptures in any form; 8,396 families non-attendant upon any church; 6,273 children of Protestant homes non-attendant upon any Sunday school.

The wise distribution and the sale of Bibles has been as usual the Christian service especially committed to our missionaries and they have discharged their duties in this respect with generous tactfulness and worthy efficiency. Three thousand seven hundred and ninety-four copies of the Bible were sold by the missionaries; 5,984 copies were sold at the office, and when we add to these the copies given away in supplying the destitute families mentioned above, as well as the children of indifferent parentage, aggregating 2,709 more, we have the grand total of 12,487 copies distributed during the year.

In addition to this usual order of visitation, we have ministered to 1600 Greeks, Turks and Armenians through a specially trained missionary. He supplied them with copies of the Scriptures in their own language wherever feasible, and it is to be noted that almost every one of the recipients paid for his books.

The Society needs your prayers, your sympathy and your money. We would urge all of our contributors to consider prayerfully the future needs of the work in drawing their wills. A bequest made to such a noble cause ensures participation in the affairs of the kingdom generation after generation to an immeasurable future. Generous benefactors have already given us worthy examples of much sanctified forethought. In the natural spread of population into the, as yet, wilderness regions of Maine, there will be in coming days an increasing demand for the services of our missionaries and for this larger future of responsibility we shall need a much larger permanent endowment. In view of the spiritual destitution which our missionaries have brought to light in the year's work, surely we all ought to contribute generously for the work of the coming year and follow with our prayers our faithful workers.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old fashioned poetry, but choicely good.—Isaac Walton.

The Will of the Cornish Mother

They say 'tis a sin to sorrow,
That what God doth is best;
But 'tis only a month to-morrow
I buried it from my breast.

I thought it would call me Mother,
The very first words it said:
O, I never can love another
Like the blessed babe that's dead.

Well! God is its own dear Father:
It was carried to church, and blessed;
And our Saviour's arms will gather
Such children to their rest.

I will make my best endeavour
That my sins may be forgiven;
I will serve God more than ever:
To meet my child in heaven.

I will check this foolish sorrow,
For what God doth is best—
But O, 'tis a month to-morrow
I buried it from my breast! —R. S. Hawker

Extraordinary Announcement

OPENING OF THE 25c DEPARTMENT IN OUR NEW ADDITION

FOR INSPECTION Friday, April 7th FOR BUSINESS Saturday Morning, April 8

IT is with great pleasure that we announce to our many patrons and friends in Rockland and vicinity that on Saturday morning, April 8, we will open up our new department.

THE counters in this department you will find crowded with big bargains in kitchen ware, hard ware, toys, novelties, dry and fancy goods.

The idea of building on this new addition in the rear of our already spacious 5-and-10c store is to supply the public with a long felt want, by stocking same with a general line of merchandise to be sold at 25c, and the bargains we intend giving will surpass even the Great Bargains We Always Give in our 5-and-10c department

25c

IT WILL BE WORTH YOUR WHILE TO COME AND VISIT US ON SATURDAY AND SEE FOR YOURSELF WHAT REALLY TREMENDOUS VALUES YOU CAN BUY FOR

25c

WE have taken the entire space of our new addition to do this department justice, and as you, no doubt, appreciate a good thing when you see it, we feel sure it will meet with your approval, for values we intend giving will eclipse any bargains ever given in this or any other city, and will mark a new era in the retailing of merchandise.

WE herewith take this means of heartily thanking you for the favors bestowed upon us in the past and cordially invite you to the grand opening of our new 25c department. This department will be open for inspection on Friday. We assure you that on our part we will always endeavor to serve you by giving you the biggest values possible of 5, 10 and 25c goods.

MAY WE HAVE THE PLEASURE OF GREETING YOU

A SPRING "POME"
 When April comes in, with a smile and a grin,
 And we hear the birds venture this way;
 We also may smile, and a snaky rattle,
 As we shovel the snow-bank away.
 The white fleecy snow, may not always go,
 With a poem on beautiful spring;
 So near April One, the sun gives us sun,
 As we shovel the stud with a fling.
 Please pile on more coal, instead of the dose,
 We thought would suffice a week more;
 O, don't can't you see, I'm as cold as can be?
 Go back and close up that door!

Frank D. Haraden has bought the John Cook house on Limerock street, and now occupies it.

Master Burnard Wilson of Vinalhaven sends us the first butterfly of the season. It was alive and fluttering at last accounts.

Alvah Staples has purchased the Hiram Ulmer house on Rankin street and will take possession as soon as the house is vacated.

The high school is getting ready for its second annual recital, which will be held in the assembly hall, high school building, April 19.

L. D. Gamage, formerly in the market business at the Brook, has moved with his family to Portland, and taken charge of a boarding house.

Rockland Lodge of Elks will install officers at its regular meeting next Monday night. Past Exalted Ruler W. W. Case will be installing officer.

Ernest Packard and H. B. Fales are getting their Glenview weir in readiness for the spring season. The weir is in the same cove is also being put in commission.

The high school seniors are wearing their new class pins, the general design of which is a gold shield bearing the letters "R. H. S." in monogram, and the class year.

R. K. Harvey has closed his cobbler shop in the Jones block and moved to Camden where he will do similar work at Miller's shoe store. Rockland loses a good-sized family thereby.

The first dance in Temple hall, Masonic Temple, takes place this Friday evening. It is given by the Senior class of Rockland high school which has reason to look for a very large attendance.

Three smiling gentlemen who will want to know a whole lot about your business and finances will call upon you in a few days, if you are not already. Be careful and not have too many of your automobiles in sight.

Three scows, a large dredge and a water boat were in the harbor the first of the week attracting considerable attention and causing many inquiries as to their presence here. They were owned by the Packard Dredging Co. of Providence and were in passage for that port from Stockton Springs, where a large dredging contract has just been completed.

The Gen. Berry Hose Co. thinks it can put a better baseball team in the field than any other fire company in Knox county, but over and above that is anxious to see a firemen's league started. Other firemen who would like to disport themselves on the diamond the coming season are anxious to communicate with the members of the Berry Company.

A nor'easter which laid five inches of snow on the level tackled Rockland late Tuesday night, and prepared a great surprise for many persons who had gone to bed grumbling because dust was blowing in the streets. One of the city horses dragging a snow plow became stuck near the Lindsey House, furnishing a very unusual spectacle for the morning of April 5.

John Linnell, Carl Moran and Abraham Cohen qualified this week as second-class Scouts. In order to do this they were obliged to display proficiency in wigwagging, boxing the compass and observation. The examination was conducted by Scout Masters Bradley and Richardson. The boys are now looking forward to the proud moment when they may become first-class scouts, the qualifications for which are very exacting.

Friends of W. H. Simmons are urging his appointment as chairman of the registration board. Mr. Simmons, himself, is making no effort to secure the position, but has agreed to take the appointment if it comes to him. His long service on the board makes him well qualified for the honor, which, for the first time, will presumably go to a Democrat. It is expected that Herbert L. Churchill will be the other Democratic member of the board.

Monday, April 3, was the date originally set for the putting into effect of the four-trips a week service of the Eastern Steamship Co. The four-trips a week service will not begin now, however, until the ice leaves the Penobscot. It was intended to have the boats go up to Winterville on this service, but it was decided to wait until the Bangor service could begin on account of the waste of time which would occur in making connections at Bucksport.

The Camden is again on her Bangor division run, after having received a thorough overhauling before taking up the strenuous work of the summer. The Belfast is now off the route, receiving similar attention. Capt. Ezra Curtis and his pilot house officers took the steamship Camden Monday, relieving Capt. Frank Brown and his pilot house crew. Capt. Brown and his officers will take charge of the steamer Belfast when she comes out of the dry dock.

The operetta "Princess Chrysanthemum," which was given here for the Universalist church some time ago, was presented recently in Dover, Me., under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Farwell of Rockland. The Piscataquis Observer said: "The 50 children who took part, and Mrs. Adelaide Farwell, the music teacher, under whose direction the affair was given, are receiving many compliments upon the very pleasing way that it was carried out. Mrs. Farwell worked unobtrusively to make the event a success, and gave her time and work unostentatiously. The production showed her splendid ability as a director and her careful and painstaking work with the children."

Capt. Horace B. West of Portland, formerly in command of the revenue cutter Woodbury, is one of the leading candidates for the position of commandant of the service.

John W. Thomas of the Courier-Gazette staff, is confined to his home on Pleasant street by illness. Mrs. Thomas, who has been in Boston several weeks, is expected home tomorrow morning.

Hon. Oliver G. Hall's successor as judge of the Kennebec county superior court is Fred Emery Beans of Hallowell. Judge Hall's term expires April 25 after 21 years of service which are without blemish.

Clarence A. Pendleton and J. F. Burgess of this city will read papers at the quarterly meeting of the Maine Association of Optometrists in Bangor next Wednesday. Among the applicants for membership are Edward Shaw of Union and Frank E. Morrow of Camden.

H. W. Huks, the new president and general manager of the Rockland-Rockport Lime Co., has appointed Edward S. Levensaler purchasing agent for the Limerock Railroad and Rockland-Rockport Lime Co. Mr. Levensaler has been on the local staff of the home company since its inception in 1900. His ability was recognized by President Huks while the latter was serving as general manager of the company, and since that time has had charge of purchasing cooperation. Mr. Levensaler's promotion is a gratifying reward of his 10 years' services for the corporation.

Special to the ladies, 200 more of those famous silver spoons will be given away to the first 200 ladies attending the Saturday matinee at Rockland Theatre.

Rev. E. S. Ufford will address the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Pliny A. Allen, Jr., of Medford Hillsdale, Mass., has received an honorary call to the pastorate of the Universalist church of this city.

M. H. Sullivan, until recently with the John Bird Co., left Monday for Sidney, Montana, with a view to locating if the right kind of a proposition meets his eye.

Follow the crowd today to the opening of Green Bros', 25-cent department, and pick out your purchase for tomorrow. Today is show day—Saturday is buying day.

Claremont Commandery, K. T., will attend Easter Sunday services at the Congregational church upon invitation of Rev. W. H. Mousley, who just now has the distinction of being the "baby" member of the Commandery.

An all new show at Rockland Theatre tonight, the vaudeville consists of Holmes and Holliston in the rural playlet "Looking for Betsy," and Elinor Dunbar, singing and telling comedienne.

Also an entirely new set of photo plays. There will be a souvenir matinee Saturday, a lot of 200 silver spoons will be given to the first 200 lady patrons.

A new patrol of Boy Scouts, known as "The Bears" was organized Tuesday, and began its career with a hike to Glenview, where some of the members passed the fire-building and cooking tests. The patrol is made up as follows: Maynard Leach, patrol leader; Eldridge Simmons, corporal; Abraham Cohen, George Mullin, George Prescott, Austin Staples and Charles Nye, scouts.

Each scout must sometime this week cut his hair. The parents noticed no difference in the behavior of their boys, if Scouts—certainly outsiders have—if anybody has any books or pictures suitable for the Scout clubroom they would be much appreciated there.

Miss Underwood of Camden again captured first prize in the amateur contest at Rockland Theatre Wednesday night. Second money was passed over to Mr. Handy of Camden, who appeared in a black-face song and dance act, garbed in the dry costume of a South Sea islander who had swallowed all of a missionary except his tall hat.

The rude remark of the gallery gods sent him into the throes of stage fright, but he emerged and beat it for the high notes in a manner that the audience, not unmixed with admiration. This man Handy totally eclipses the once famous George, and will be the rage for a period. Daley and Briggs won the prize.

Traveling salesmen representing a paper and a pickle company landed in the store of a well known concern at the same time Tuesday and found Ralph ready to accept almost any kind of a sporting proposition. The pickle drummer thought himself the most accurate thrower in the bunch. "Tell you what I'll do," said Ralph. "I'll stand against that building across the street and let you throw two eggs at me, if you will let me throw two at you."

The Heinz man couldn't back out, but his proposition so unnerved him that his two shots at Ralph went wide of the mark. Not so with Ralph, however, for the first egg he hurled caught the pickle man on the front of his fancy vest, and the second struck him in the neck, the contents being splashed impartially over his features. "You fellows can't hit a balloon," jeered Ralph, "you can throw all the eggs at me that you are willing to pay for."

That proposition looked good to the drummers, who stood the store man up against a neighboring building and pegged the egg-fruit at him until their arms ached. They threw eggs singly and in pairs, until three dozen were exhausted, but never once did they hit the human target. The building which acted as a background looked like a huge omelet, and the bystanders who witnessed the novel duel laughed so hard that they have scarcely been able to eat since. It was another of Ralph's "wonderful bargains."

Fuller-Cobb Co. have their opening of "ready to wear" garments Friday and Saturday.

Clarence Gray is clerking at Casey's fruit store.

Daniel Doherty moved his family from Colony Avenue into the Case house on South Main street, Tuesday.

John S. Smalley of Tenant's Harbor, who has served a long term of years as deputy sheriff and constable, recently lost temporarily at least the eyesight of one eye, the affection of which is thought by the doctors to be due to some kind of kidney disease. His hosts of friends throughout the county will unite in wishing Mr. Smalley's speedy and complete recovery.

Conductor E. L. Risteen of Bath was the successful bidder for the train on the Bath & Lincoln division of the Maine Central formerly run by the late A. W. Hodgkins, and has commenced his duties. Conductor Risteen is one of the old and popular employees of the Maine Central and has been conductor on the Pullman on the Knox & Lincoln. His new run will bring him in Rockland every night.

Lobster prices have taken a tumble since last week but the fish are still far from plentiful due to the fact that rough weather has prevented the fishermen from getting to their traps. The pounds were not so heavily stocked as usual this winter, for two reasons. One was the tendency of the fishermen to hold their lobsters in cars until the glut on the market had subsided. Another reason is found in the fact that prices did not drop low enough during the summer so the wholesale dealers could afford to fill their pounds.

"I'll stand against that building across the street and let you throw two eggs at me, if you will let me throw two at you."

The Heinz man couldn't back out, but his proposition so unnerved him that his two shots at Ralph went wide of the mark. Not so with Ralph, however, for the first egg he hurled caught the pickle man on the front of his fancy vest, and the second struck him in the neck, the contents being splashed impartially over his features. "You fellows can't hit a balloon," jeered Ralph, "you can throw all the eggs at me that you are willing to pay for."

That proposition looked good to the drummers, who stood the store man up against a neighboring building and pegged the egg-fruit at him until their arms ached. They threw eggs singly and in pairs, until three dozen were exhausted, but never once did they hit the human target. The building which acted as a background looked like a huge omelet, and the bystanders who witnessed the novel duel laughed so hard that they have scarcely been able to eat since. It was another of Ralph's "wonderful bargains."

Lobster prices have taken a tumble since last week but the fish are still far from plentiful due to the fact that rough weather has prevented the fishermen from getting to their traps. The pounds were not so heavily stocked as usual this winter, for two reasons. One was the tendency of the fishermen to hold their lobsters in cars until the glut on the market had subsided. Another reason is found in the fact that prices did not drop low enough during the summer so the wholesale dealers could afford to fill their pounds.

A new patrol of Boy Scouts, known as "The Bears" was organized Tuesday, and began its career with a hike to Glenview, where some of the members passed the fire-building and cooking tests. The patrol is made up as follows: Maynard Leach, patrol leader; Eldridge Simmons, corporal; Abraham Cohen, George Mullin, George Prescott, Austin Staples and Charles Nye, scouts.

Each scout must sometime this week cut his hair. The parents noticed no difference in the behavior of their boys, if Scouts—certainly outsiders have—if anybody has any books or pictures suitable for the Scout clubroom they would be much appreciated there.

Miss Underwood of Camden again captured first prize in the amateur contest at Rockland Theatre Wednesday night. Second money was passed over to Mr. Handy of Camden, who appeared in a black-face song and dance act, garbed in the dry costume of a South Sea islander who had swallowed all of a missionary except his tall hat.

The rude remark of the gallery gods sent him into the throes of stage fright, but he emerged and beat it for the high notes in a manner that the audience, not unmixed with admiration. This man Handy totally eclipses the once famous George, and will be the rage for a period. Daley and Briggs won the prize.

Traveling salesmen representing a paper and a pickle company landed in the store of a well known concern at the same time Tuesday and found Ralph ready to accept almost any kind of a sporting proposition. The pickle drummer thought himself the most accurate thrower in the bunch. "Tell you what I'll do," said Ralph. "I'll stand against that building across the street and let you throw two eggs at me, if you will let me throw two at you."

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed, the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by the fathers and mothers.

If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines when medicines are not needed, and when nature requires assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. As you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. To get its beneficial effects it is necessary to purchase the genuine only. Buy a bottle today to have in the house when needed. Put up in one size only. Regular price 50c a bottle and for sale by all leading druggists.

LINCOLNVILLE

Schools in town will begin Monday, April 24.
Miss Georgia Hall has gone to Belfast to work in the millinery department of I. V. Miller's new store, corner of Main and High streets.

Percy Cross left Monday for Gloucester, Mass., where he has employment. Mrs. Eva J. Dean is spending a few days in Belfast with her uncle, I. V. Miller.

Arno Knights was in Belfast recently on business.

David Ordway of Camden was a Sunday guest at V. A. Woodbridge's.

Miss Lena McKinney passed last week with friends in Seabrook.

Miss Jessie Young is attending the spring term of school at Castine.

Our milliner, Mrs. S. J. Woodbridge, will leave this week for Boston to select a stock of millinery and fancy goods.

Don't forget the band concert and dance at the town hall Tuesday evening, April 11. Ice cream, cake and coffee will be served. The proceeds are for the band.

William Thompson and two children of Boston are guests at A. O. Richards for a few days.

Miss Hazel Miller arrived home Sunday from a few days' visit in Hope, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hobbs.

Sarah Ordway of Camden has been spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Burleigh Ordway at the village.

ROCKVILLE

Mrs. Maria Tolman has improved in health and is visiting her brother, John Curney in Appleton for a few weeks.

Leo Maxey of Lowell, Mass., called on friends here recently.

Mrs. I. B. Keene has been visiting friends in Rockland the past week.

Miss Mary Hall is home from Colby college for a ten days' vacation.

Mrs. Fannie Brewster has returned from Lewiston and is housekeeper for R. L. Howard.

E. C. Oxtom, who has been confined to the house for a few weeks, is able to be out again.

Miss Beulah Sylvester has returned to her school in Rockland after spending two weeks' vacation at home.

A. O. Keene of Thomaston spent Friday with his brother, Winslow Keene.

Mrs. W. P. Richardson left Wednesday for New York and from there she will go to Jacksonville, Fla. with her husband, Capt. W. P. Richardson.

Miss Louise Mullen of Lincolnville is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. Arvesta Oxtom, who has been sick, is convalescent.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD

Whether in the Head, Throat or Chest, Immediate Treatment is Advisable.

Nothing is more common at this time of the year than a cold, and nothing is more dangerous.

Practically all cases of Pneumonia, and many cases of Consumption originate in a cold in the head or chest, and yet in practically every instance the cold could have been easily cured if taken in time.

The simplest way to stop a cold from spreading is by the external application of MENTHOLATUM.

MENTHOLATUM will give prompt relief in even the most aggravated cases whether the cold is in the head, throat or chest. It is used extensively by physicians everywhere, and has been recommended by them for many years.

MENTHOLATUM can be secured at any of the local drug stores in 25c and 50c jars, or a free sample can be secured by writing to the Mentholum Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

LIBERTY

Andrew Rokes and wife of Appleton called on S. T. Overlock Sunday.

Charles Escency is at work for Charles Overlock shaving hoops.

Joseph and Abigail Turner are at work for Turner & Jones in the mill.

S. T. Overlock, who has been in quite poor health the past winter, is slowly gaining.

Melvin Hall, who has been sick, is better at last reports.

E. Leigh called on A. Nash Sunday.

We are informed that Lincoln Overlock is to move into the tenement of Orren Overlock at the Corner.

Fred Overlock has painted a fine large millinery sign for Mrs. Fred Millay, which will be used at Liberty village.

Arthur Overlock has bought a big lot of cash lumber of W. Greeley.

H. Fuller is cooping for A. Overlock and J. Overlock.

S. T. Overlock called on the venerable scribe H. E. Cunningham at East Liberty Sunday.

Hauling operations of the Dustin Lumber Co. is all stopped at present on account of the bad going.

We don't think our venerable R. F. D. carrier, W. Ludwig, has lost but one trip since the route was established.

He manages to get through sometimes nearly frozen, and sometimes nearly downed, but he gets there just the same.

We are glad to learn that our friend George Norwood is out again after a long sickness.

Prescott & Leigh had the misfortune to break their heading saw and were obliged to send to Gardiner to get another.

EAST SEABROOK

Miss Hattie Burgess has gone to Cape Porpoise for a two weeks' visit with relatives.

Miss Lena McKinney and Ray Rankin of Lincolnville were in town recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Mariner and two sons Harold and Robie of Center Belmont, called on relatives in this section recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mariner of Belmont visited in this town a few days ago.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken.

Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has drawn from it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

APPLETON

Mrs. Edna Brown and sons Henry and Sewell, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Morang for several weeks, have returned to their home in Oakland.

Joseph Ames lost a cow Friday. Another of his cows died the first of the winter.

Elden Dyer traded one of his carriages Saturday with T. E. Gushue of Lincolnville for a second-hand horse.

Elden says he is going to use the body of the vehicle for a chicken coop.

The Odd Fellows who recently visited Knox Lodge tell us they were well repaid for their long ride on a stormy day, the Rockland brothers giving them one of the best receptions they have enjoyed for a long time.

HIGH PRESSURE DAYS

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the pressure is to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

Robber Catarrh

Steals Energy and Will Power from its Victims

Catarrh robs its victims of energy—some physicians say of will power. That may be the reason why thousands of catarrh sufferers haven't ambition enough to accept this fair and square offer by W. H. Kittredge which he makes without any whys and wherefores or red tape of any kind.

W. H. Kittredge says, "he guarantees HYOMEI to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, or money back," and that offer is open to every reader of The Courier-Gazette.

HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-mey) is the purest Australian Eucalyptus combined with Thymol and other germ killing antiseptics.

Pour a few drops into the small vest pocket HYOMEI inhaler and breathe it into the lungs over the inflamed membrane infested with catarrh germs.

It is pleasant to use—it kills the germs, soothes the sore membrane and cures catarrh; if it doesn't your money back.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at druggists everywhere, and at W. H. Kittredge's. A complete outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs $1.00.

In cases of rheumatism relief from pain makes sleep and rest possible. This may be obtained by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by Norcross Drug Stores and W. H. Kittredge, Druggists.

Setting a Watch.

"The jeweler set my watch within a thousandth of a second when he gave it to me today," said the man with a new timepiece, "and this is how he did it:

"He has a clock wired up with the big chronometer at Washington. At 4 p. m. this clock was corrected to the thousandth of a second. At 4:05 he was ready to deliver my watch. His master clock has a 361 inch pendulum, so it ticks seconds. Each of the first fifty-five ticks in each minute is announced by a telegraph sander in the clock, then the last five seconds are silent.

The watchmaker rested a camel's hair brush on the balance wheel of the watch to stop it, then set all the hands, hour, minute and second at 4:06:00 and waited. When the silence of the sander indicated 4:06:55 he got ready, and five seconds later, on the first tick of 4:07, he lifted the brush and the watch started. By looking at the second hand with a glass and listening to the clock he pronounced it proved their identity except for the time it took the sound to travel from the clock to my ear."

Seven Minute Sermon On the Golden Text

By Our Own Preacher

(Copyright, 1910, by E. S. Davidson.)

April 9th, 1911.

For He will give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Ps. xciii.

1. Angelic protection is promised us. This text clearly teaches the ministry of angels. It is a subject not often preached, and one of which the average Christian knows but little. John Wesley believed in "ghosts"; for this he is often laughed at by his followers, as if this belief were a relic of a superstitious age, and that modern Christian thought scouted such an idea. If the Bible is to be accepted as authority, then such persons simply laugh at their own folly, as a large portion of scripture is devoted to the part which good and bad spirits take in the affairs of men. That good angels do minister to God's children is undoubtedly taught in the Bible. There are many passages in which they are promised, and prayed for; there tell of their coming, what they said, and the blessings they conferred. It is quite impossible, in this short study, to quote the many passages to which reference is now made, but a concordance will show the large body of scripture devoted to angelic guardianship. One case may be cited, of such ministry, in the Old Testament and one in the New, and I believe these to be but sample cases, of similar experiences, from the beginning of time until now. The Syrian army was in hot pursuit of Elisha, and finally had him surrounded in Dothan. The servant of Elisha was terror-stricken, one morning, to find that he and his master were surrounded by the Syrian host, with horses and chariots, and he said, "Alas my master! how shall we do?" Then Elisha prayed that his servant's eyes might be opened to God's spiritual army with which they were also surrounded, saying at the same time, "Fear not; for they that be with us are more than they that be without us." The servant's eyes were opened, and he saw, and behold, the mountain was full of horses, and chariots of fire around about Elisha. It is always so, "The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them." The case from the New Testament which I would cite, is the transfiguration scene of Jesus. Our Lord had with him on the mountain, Peter, and James, and John, and while he was praying his facial aspect changed, so that his face gleamed like the sun, and his raiment was white as the light. It was then that two distinguished persons, who had been dead hundreds of years, appeared to him and his three disciples, and talked with him. These two guardian angels were no other than Moses and Elijah. No doubt this is one of the countless number of the fulfillments of our text, "He shall give his angels charge over thee."

2. It is God who appoints the angels as our guardians. Angelic protection is in no way conflicts with direct Divine guidance, any more than the attention of the nurse, or the tuition of the teacher, conflicts with the direct care of the mother over her child. Angels are the ministering servants of God, under His direct supervision, to protect and care for His children. The statement of the text is, "He shall give his angels charge over thee."

3. The writer of the epistle to the Hebrews, referring to the angels, says, "Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister to them who shall be heirs of salvation?"

4. We have reason to believe that God has congenial work for every one of that "great company which no man can number" in the spirit world, and it is proper to assume that every Christian has a copy of the angelic host, appointed by the heavenly Father, to attend him. Those whose delight was, while here, to love and care for us, find no more delightful task there, than to use their angelic influence over us who remain here. Our husbands, wives, and lovers; our fathers, mothers, and children, in the summer land, are no doubt the guardian angels of their loved ones upon the earth. What better occupation can God give our angel comrades than to minister to our earthly needs?

5. Angels under God are to keep us in all our ways. I take it that angels appointed over us by our Father, exercise the same kind of care of us as God Himself. Their guardianship is for the purpose of helping us make the best use of our powers for time and eternity. To keep us from harm and sin, to help us love one another, to bring us to the heavenly Father, to prosper us, to help us grow in all things which form character; to keep our feet in the path of life. I do not think their influence is compulsory, but that it is persuasive, and gives us powerful inducements to do the right. The extent of their success depends upon ourselves. We should therefore take plenty of time to commune with God and the spirit world, cultivate the sense of the unseen, giving our chastened imagination full play; thus we shall increase our susceptibility to the influence of our heavenly guides, and our ears will be attuned to their angelic voices; we shall then have the full realization of the spiritual ministry as promised in the text. Only those who are spiritual may hope for comfort from angelic ministry, but all such may successfully cultivate the sense of the presence of the angels.

Their guardianship is for the purpose of helping us make the best use of our powers for time and eternity. To keep us from harm and sin, to help us love one another, to bring us to the heavenly Father, to prosper us, to help us grow in all things which form character; to keep our feet in the path of life. I do not think their influence is compulsory, but that it is persuasive, and gives us powerful inducements to do the right. The extent of their success depends upon ourselves. We should therefore take plenty of time to commune with God and the spirit world, cultivate the sense of the unseen, giving our chastened imagination full play; thus we shall increase our susceptibility to the influence of our heavenly guides, and our ears will be attuned to their angelic voices; we shall then have the full realization of the spiritual ministry as promised in the text. Only those who are spiritual may hope for comfort from angelic ministry, but all such may successfully cultivate the sense of the presence of the angels.

SOUTH THOMASTON

There was a period of strenuous excitement at the Keag Monday when Eugene Harrington's hen-pen caught fire. A volunteer fire department headed by Chief Engineer Wiggin, speedily got into the game and worked with such efficiency that the fire was soon drowned out—likewise about 100 chickens. The latter had neither fire nor life insurance.

Mrs. Lettie M. Perkins

The last sad rites of Mrs. Lettie (Maloney) Perkins, who died last Sunday morning at Rockland, were held in the Congregational church, Warren, on last Tuesday afternoon, and were largely attended. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. W. Webb of the Congregational church of which she had been a faithful and helpful member for twenty-three years. She was an esteemed member of Mystic Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, being a past Noble Grand in that order. She was also a member of Warren Grange. Mystic Lodge was present at her funeral in a body and performed the ritual burial service of the order at the church. The members of Warren Grange also attended her funeral.

Deceased was an example of bravery and fortitude, and seemed prepared for the trying ordeal through which she had to pass. Kindly, thoughtful and considerate, mindful of the welfare of all about her, her life has been a testimony, its influence that of goodness. Her loss will be felt with especial keenness by the church and the orders, with which she was connected. She will be sadly missed in the home and by her neighbors and friends. She is survived by a husband, W. H. Perkins, and one son, Emerson W. Perkins, also a mother, and one brother, Dewey Maloney of Pleasant Point.

The floral tributes were profuse and exceedingly elegant, and were the parting gifts of friends and neighbors.

In Social Circles

The Progressive Literary Club will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. Lucia Burpee, Limerock street.

Daniel Munro, the Park street restaurant man, is confined to his home by gripe.

Mrs. Glenn Lawrence, who have been spending the winter in Lubec have returned to their home in this city. Mr. Lawrence is with the North Lubec Manufacturing and Canning Co. Harry Webb of Boston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Webb, Summer street.

Frank H. Ingraham was recently in Wiscasset on a business trip.

Mrs. J. H. Boynton of Lexington, Mass. is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crocker.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Burkett of Union have been guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Burrows. Mrs. Burkett was a participant in the Temple hall bridge party Wednesday.

Master Frederick U. Waltz entertained friends Wednesday evening at his home on Broadway, in honor of his 12th birthday. Those present were Roland McLaughlin, Teddy Moffitt and Charles Gould. Games were played and refreshments were served.

Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R. held one of the most interesting meetings of the winter with Mrs. H. A. Buffum, 22 Grove street, Monday afternoon, April 3. It was voted to send $15 for further furnishing the Maine room in Continental hall and one new member was voted into the Chapter. A paper on "Arts and Crafts of Colonial Days" was charmingly prepared and read by Mrs. Buffum. To illustrate this paper was a collection, having been loaned by the members of the Chapter, of colonial handicraft, including hand-woven laces, embroideries and samplers, mirrors, china, pewter, jewelry and books. A delicious lunch of hot chocolate and cakes was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Francis Butler and Miss Charlotte Buffum. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 1st, with Mrs. J. A. Burpee, 201 Main street.

William Baker and Lincoln McRae returned Tuesday from Palm Beach, Fla., where they have been employed at one of the leading hotels during the winter. From the frozen North to the tropical South is quite a broad jump for these young gentlemen, but it takes more than that to daunt them.

The Glencove Study Club met with Mrs. Baker, March 29, with a very good attendance. The work was done as has been previously assigned and was much enjoyed by those present.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Fred Leach, North Main street, April 12, the program will be as follows: Reading chapter 12 in "England" by Mrs. Packard; third and fourth articles in March magazine by Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Rich; examination questions in English Literature as far as No. 9. A full attendance is desired.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of Galilee Temple served a baked bean supper Tuesday evening to an appreciative company, after which a pleasant hour was spent in singing hymns.

Miss Lullie Ames Appleton is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ethel Griffin, Water street.

Willis Sullivan, employed at Hardwick, Vt., is the guest of his sisters, the Misses Rose and Evelyn Sullivan.

Mrs. Emma Alden and Mrs. Laura Moody were recent guests of Mrs. Martha Moody, T. street.

Temple hall in Masonic Temple was dedicated Wednesday afternoon with a bridge party given by Rockland ladies. The stormy day and disagreeable traveling had a tendency to largely curtail the attendance, but in spite of these drawbacks there were some 15 tables, and the party was an unqualified success. The new hall, with its handsome decorations of palms, potted plants and purple and white iris, was greatly admired, and there were many exclamations of pleasure when the electric lighting effects were shown. Buffet lunch was served. The prizes were won as follows: Mrs. Fred B. Wiggin of Thomaston, cut glass sugar bowl and cream pitcher; Mrs. George W. Smith, cluny lace centerpiece; Miss Clara Creighton of Thomaston, cut glass bon-bon dish; Mrs. J. A. Burpee, silk hose; and Mrs. W. W. Smith, lace jabot. The general committee in charge of the party was composed of the following ladies: Mrs. L. F. Chase, Mrs. Oliver Otis, Mrs. C. A. Packard, Mrs. O. E. Davies, Mrs. H. H. Flint, Mrs. G. H. Blodgett, Mrs. W. C. Winslow, Mrs. L. R. Campbell, Mrs. E. C. Payson, Mrs. H. W. Thorndike and Mrs. Charles Morton.

Mrs. C. L. Sherer, who has been quite ill at the Highlands, is slowly recovering. Miss Susie B. Sherer is also on the sick list and has been ill all the past week, but hopes to be able to take up her school duties again next Monday.

Miss Celeste Rhoades Bridges entertained a few of her little friends Monday afternoon in honor of her 6th birthday. Light refreshments were served and the little ones enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content by playing all sorts of games. A peanut hunt also helped to pass away the time; the first prize being won by Miss Viva McLain and the second by Mary McKinney. Others present were Ruby Foster, Ida May Larrabee, Amber Elwell, Elizabeth Knight, Blanch Wood, Gladys Knowlton, Carrie Clough, Marion Brazier, Hazel Bridges, Beulah Richards, Marion Mossman, Edith Bridges, Lillian Barter, Donald Haskell, Herman Hart and Alva Mears. Celeste received many pretty gifts from her little friends and all went home wishing there could be another one tomorrow.

MRS. E. F. CROCKETT

Mrs. William Mathews of Mariden, Conn., who will be remembered by many in Rockland as the mother of Mrs. E. H. Chapin, left Boston April 5 for Santa Barbara, Calif., where she will make an extended visit with Mrs. Chapin.

Mrs. E. H. Rose gave a three-table bridge party Thursday afternoon. Prizes were won by Miss Harriet Abbott and Mrs. A. S. Black.

Mrs. Arthur Farrand, who underwent a surgical operation at the Knox general hospital this week is very comfortable and gaining as rapidly as could be expected.

Mrs. L. O. Tyler left Friday for Malden, Mass., where she will visit her daughter Eva, for the next two weeks.

FOUR GENERATIONS

I. Palmer Starrett Heads an Interesting Family Group in Warren.

An interesting four-generations group consists of I. Palmer Starrett aged 80; Avery P. Starrett 49; Herbert L. Starrett 22 and Harold B. Starrett 3½ months, all of Warren. Of the three youngest generations, each is the oldest in the family and there are no girls in the families. Palmer Starrett has been a successful farmer and business man, holding a Justice of Peace commission for 49 years. He has held the office of secretary and treasurer of the Warren Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. since its organization 40 years ago. For nearly the same length of time he was the clerk of the First Congregational church, of which he has been an active and efficient member, attending the services regularly until the last year when ill health prevented.

His son, Avery Starrett, a graduate of the University of Maine, is also a farmer, having taken the agricultural course at the University. He is an active Granger having been Master several times of the local Grange and at the present time of the Knox Pomona.

Herbert Starrett is an electrical contractor and is superintendent and collector of the Warren Telephone Co. The youngest member, Harold, is attending strictly to the business of growing.

EASTERN STAR PICNIC

Members of Golden Rod Chapter, O. E. S., with friends, will picnic at Crescent Beach Thursday, April 13. Mr. Smith will furnish chowder and coffee for 15 cents. Ladies will please furnish as for a regular supper. All planning to attend will please notify the committee in charge the night before. Further arrangements will be announced in the Tuesday issue.

Mr. and Mrs. George St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robinson, Mrs. C. E. Bicknell and Harry P. Mayo, committee.

Sch. Robert W. is loading lime at the Northend for Frankfort.

Sch. Lavina M. Snow arrived Tuesday at San Juan, P. R. with a general cargo from New York. She will load coconuts back to Philadelphia from a Porto Rican port or ports.

Sch. Adelia T. Carleton is loading coconuts at Raritan Islands for New York.

Sch. Eliza Levensaler is loading lime from J. A. Creighton & Co., Thomaston for Boston.

IS PROBABLY SAFE

Fears for the safety of the Boston schooner, J. Manchester Haynes, which sailed from Brunswick, Ga., for Boston Feb. 28, were somewhat allayed Wednesday by the report that she had been spoken off the Georges Bank on Saturday apparently without need of assistance and fighting her way to port against a stiff northwester. It is believed that the stiff off-shore gales of the past few days have kept the Haynes from making port, but her arrival is expected before the end of the week.

SYMPATHY FOR MEXICANS

Knox County Socialists See Wall Street's Hand in American Mobilization.

Condemning President Diaz of Mexico as a military despot, and declaring that the present movement of American troops to the Mexican border was inspired by the financial interests of Wall Street, with the purpose of aiding Diaz in defeating the demands of the Mexican people for a guarantee of constitutional rights, the following resolutions have been issued from the headquarters of the Socialist state executive committee at Warren:

Resolved, That we earnestly urge all the liberty loving Americans to raise their voices in protest against this government aiding a despot in crushing the aspirations of a people striving to be free; and be it further

Resolved, That we express our sympathy and encouragement to the Mexican insurgents; Success to your cause! May your blows for liberty be victorious despite your tyrannous Diaz and American bayonets that bristle on your borders! Better die for liberty than perish in dens of slavery!

Don't think less of your system than you do of your base. Give it a thorough cleansing, too. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

HOME DECORATIONS

The decoration of a room may be based upon some special feature of the room—a piece of furniture, a bit of choice china, the coloring of the rug or planned to harmonize with the adjacent rooms.

WALLS—Rich, flat effects are secured by use of Flat-tone finishes. These materials are durable, sanitary and most practical in the home. Used over the old paper, you get the color desired and a durable surface that can be washed with soap and water like the paint on the wood work.

A FLAT-TONE treatment of the old curtains makes them look like new and gives them a color to harmonize with the room.

FLOORS—By using filler stains, wax or varnishes, any shade or finish may be given. For old sort-wood floors, our floor paint or varnish stain may be used to give a lasting surface.

We have finished over 100 rooms the past few months with FLAT-TONE. The first cost is less and being durable, it's the most economical finish all around.

Telephone us and we will call with Color Cards and help suggest combinations.

IN BRITISH GUIANA

Vinall, a Tourist Thinks Georgetown the Best English City Yet—The Cocktail vs. the Switzer.

(First Installment.)

Georgetown, British Guiana, commonly called Demerara, is situated at the mouth of the Demerara River on low land, in fact on land that at high water is lower than the sea. The water is kept back by a dyke built of granite on the side next to the ocean. This town at springtime is below the level of the sea by several feet. The breakwater is two miles long, granite piers extending from it into the sea every 60 yards or so to break the force of the sea. The wall is 25 feet wide on top and utilized as a promenade and health resort in the afternoon and evening. A line of street cars runs along the breakwater from the city, and as the band plays on the sea wall every Saturday night you can form a faint idea of the popularity of the point as a resort in the cool of the evening.

This sea wall was commenced in 1858, and was not completed until the year 1892. It was built principally by convict labor and all the granite was brought from the penal settlement on the Massaruni River, 80 miles away. Demerara River is a long, wide, swift-running river that brings down a constant stream of muddy water. It reminds me very much of the Missouri River. The water is about the same color. As it empties into the sea it changes the water for miles along the coast from that beautiful blue color that is so noticeable in the waters of the Caribbean Sea to a dirty, muddy color that doesn't appeal to you as a very nice place for bathing. At all the houses are provided with shower baths, so you do not miss the sea bathing as much as you would otherwise.

The people of the tropical climates are all amphibious. I think they could live in the water as well as on the land. The canals are not a nice place for bathing as most of them are filled with beautiful water lilies. I saw some Coolie laborers trimming the banks of one of the canals. They were perfectly nude. It did not seem to cause any comment, as the Coolie men do not as a rule wear any more clothes than the law requires. They wear a cap or a scarf bound around their heads, a blouse and a scarf around their loins, with feet and legs bare. It reminds me of the parody:

"Lo the poor Indian, whose untutored mind was taught in front, and goes all bare behind."

They do not form any untutored mind, but because it is the custom of the country that they came from, and it is more comfortable than clothes in this hot climate. The Coolie woman covers up the lower extremities, but the arms and necks are bare, as well as a space of about three inches around the waist, between the skirt and kind of a jacket they wear.

This town is well laid out. The streets are all rectangular in Georgetown and all contain canals that intersect in all directions. The canals are all open and are crossed by innumerable bridges, built of iron and cement, in artistic design.

Main street, where I am stopping, has four rows of trees, a driveway on each side of the street, two rows of trees in the center, with a green grass plot and in the center a wide canal full of the Victoria Regia lily that has a leaf six feet across floating on the water. The street is 40 yards wide. The roads on each side are shaded by an avenue of saman trees. Handsome painted white, or some delicate tint of pink or light blue are built on each side of the street, nearly all surrounded by a garden full of tropical trees and all sorts of bright-hued plants and flowers. As I look down upon it from the second-story window I can't help but say it is the most beautiful sight I ever saw. The houses are all well built, having a look of prosperity, and the gardens are well kept.

The drainage is primitive. The rain water is drained off by the canals which are connected with the Demerara River by sluices. The gates can only be opened for 12 hours out of the 24, when the tide is falling, or only just beginning to rise. The tides rise and fall about eight feet. This is the hottest place that I have visited yet. It is red-hot and still heating in the middle of the day, but it is cool at night with a good breeze blowing all the time in one direction. I can't say that it rains all the time down here, but it rains a little about every day not often a very heavy rain, but when we do get a storm it makes a business of it, and if you are out in it you will know that it is raining. It comes down with a rush and wets you in a way that leaves no doubt in your mind about whether it is raining or not.

The whites here do not differ from a similar class of people in the United States. Society is composed of the usual elements, officials, merchants, professional men, planters, with their wives and families, who are well bred and as well educated as people of the same vocation in other countries. As for hospitality, the people here in Demerara I think take the lead. One thing most noticeable is the absence of beggars on the streets. In the other places, especially among the islands, you were importuned at every turn and corner, and if you have hired a boatman or cabman, and failed to make a trade with him before hand, he is sure to try and collect his accustomed rates or beg you to give him an extra shilling or two. The hotels and boarding houses at some of the islands were not above doing the same thing.

British Guiana has an area of 90,277 square miles. The population is 304,089—Georgetown 60,000. The 1908 imports amounted to 1,765,358 English pounds and exports to 1,741,677 pounds. The main exports were sugar, 115,421 tons; rum, 2,487,034 gallons; rice, 8,300,677 pounds. Of all the imports the United States secures but a small percentage of the business. The U. S. Consul showed us the comparative imports from England and the United States. The States did not have quite 10 per cent. of it.

One of the greatest drawbacks of the colony, is, as an old resident here says, the monotony. There is no winter, spring or autumn. It is one perpetual summer. One day is like another, except some days are hotter than others. There is never a cold day, no hurricanes, no earthquakes, and the thunder storms on the coast are infrequent and inoffensive.

The fruit is the same all the year around—bananas, pineapples, mangoes, with fresh vegetables any time you wish to have them.

Demerara is an important port, rich in gold, diamonds and timber. The records do not show that they have any more fever in Georgetown than other hot countries have. There are not many mosquitoes here on the coast, but back in the country they are thick and full grown, and you can get all you want. It must be borne in mind that British Guiana is practically an unbroken forest, and people who go back in to the brush as it is called here, are liable to get fever and malaria. Most of the sickness here is caused by a drink they call a switzer. The hot weather and perpetual perspiration causes a constant thirst. There is a lot of drinking, and they drink on scientific principles here. The switzer, this subtle and delicious compound, is sometimes compared with the cocktail. They are related but they are not identical. The cocktail is strong, short, and less deceptive drink than the switzer. When you drink a cocktail you know you are drinking something strong, but the switzer is so mild and so well veiled that you do not discover you are taking anything stronger than milk until you forget what your name is, and your head is going round, and the road is trying to come up and slap you in the face. There is an unwritten law in the Georgetown Club that no one shall drink alone, so the unwary stranger, who is admitted within its sacred portals is invited to drink by about 30 or 40 gentlemen, on hospitality intent, and not wishing to offend anyone by refusing he finds himself the next day wondering how he found his hotel. The Georgetown Club is famous for its hospitality.

A good soap at a fair price.

No, madam, soaps are not "all alike."

They differ in size, shape, quality and price; also in what they do and the way they do it.

The ideal soap is a soap that is of convenient shape and good quality, and, at the same time, sells at a fair price.

Lenox Soap fulfills these requirements.
